

Connecting tech-focused lawyers for the future.

World Tech Legal is a global network of entrepreneurial law firms who specialise in providing legal services to the technology sector.

Established in 2020 by MBM Commercial, a UK based firm, with the aim of supporting the international expansion of tech companies by connecting them with expert legal counsel across the world.

There are currently 27 members from around the world – including the US, Australia, Singapore, and South Africa. Each jurisdiction has one exclusive member firm which fosters close collaboration and allows for the sharing of industry-specific legal knowledge. This means that members can stay informed about technological advances and legal insights around the world which is beneficial to the member firms.

The members of World Tech Legal meet virtually twice a year and have an in-person meeting once per year. This is hosted by a different firm each year.
